END PAVING IN 9 MORE DAYS

ATKINSON COMPANY NEARING COMPLETION OF WORK

ON NORTH JOB NOW

Work on This Project Started Late Last Friday—Rain Important Factor in Progress

Just nine more working days and the paving on state roads adjacent to Maryville will be completed.

This was the opinion expressed by state highway men of this division supervising the construction of state highway No. 18 for 2.2 miles north out of Maryville.

The Atkinson Paving Co., of Watertown, S. Dak., that completed the ten mile project on Highway No. 27 south of Maryville last week, has put down 2,514 lineal feet of concrete from the north end of the project on No. 18 in two and a half working days.

Work on this road started late last Friday, when 100 feet was put down. The rain halted work until Monday afternoon when 426 feet was laid. Tuesday a full day was put in and 867 feet of paving laid and yesterday the Atkinson Company got in 921 feet. So, barring accidents and bad weather, the paving operations will be completed the night of Memorial Day, May 30. But it is doubtful whether this can be accomplished as the Weather Man is finicky and some minor delays are always incurred by balky machinery.

The paving concern has its troubles; gambles on the weather just as much as does the farmer; and prays that his day's work will not stop just at the beginning of a low portion of the road.

For if it should rain during the night, it means extra work getting the subgrade ready before more concrete can be tamped down. The project on No. 18 presents more difficulties than the stretch south of Maryville, just completed, as there are more grades and culverts to the mile than experienced south of Maryville.

The Atkinson Paving Co., is now employing a force of approximately 105 men. About forty work at the end where the concrete is mixed by big steam machine and a crew is always at work putting down the curbing to hold in the concrete from fifty to 100 feet ahead of the machine. Then there is the crew that works about a quarter of a mile ahead of the mixing machine putting the sub-grade in shape, taking off high portions here and cutting down at other points. At the plant, which is located at the Wabash freight depot many are employed loading the dumper, where the hugh clam shell digs out a shovel full of crushed rock, then some sand and dumps it in the dumper and cement mixed accordingly.

Twenty-four trucks were used yesterday to haul the crushed rock, sand and cement from the plant to the mixing machine on the road. From twenty-four to twenty-six trucks are coming and going continuously over the haul road, that is about two miles in length for the work today, but shortens each day as the paving gets nearer the city.

Attorneys were present at the city council meeting last night representing the remonstrators against paving on Fillmore between Fourth and Eighth street and those who are favorable for paving.

SADDLE HORSE AT BIG PRICE

DENVER MAN PAYS LARGE SUM FOR COUNTY PRODUCT.

TO APPEAR AT SHOWS

Trained By J. H. Tappe At Pastime Stables and Purchased by W. L. Petrikin From C. H. Caldwell, Jr.

A Nodaway County saddle horse, owned by C. H. Caldwell, Jr., at Burlington Junction and trained by J. H. Tappe at the Pastime Stables was purchased last night by W. L. Petrikin, head of the Great Western Sugar Co., at Denver, Colo.

Mr. Petrikin is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Townsend for several days.

The young horse, a five-gaited chestnut saddle gelding known as "Sundial," has been at the Pastime Stables for the last two years receiving his education and he is now in form to go to the shows to participate in the five-gaited saddle stakes and in all probability will be a winner. He is one of the most fashionable-bred horses as well as one of the most flashy to be found in Nodaway County.

Mr. Petrikin will show this horse at the American Royal at Kansas City and the International at Chicago this fall as well as the National Western at Denver.

"Sundial" was educated and schooled by Mr. Tappe and will be left in his hands by Mr. Petrikin to be shown for him this fall.

Although the price which Mr. Petrikin paid for "Sundial" was not made public, it is said on good authority to be well up in the four figures and is one of the best and highest sales made in Nodaway County for a number of years.

Miss Condon is Queen of May—Raynor LaMar, and Selecman Have Important Roles in Pageant.

Plans are complete for the May Festivals which will be held tomorrow afternoon from 4:15 to 6 o'clock on the College campus southwest of the main building. The Pageant Robin Hood is to be presented by the junior class which is assisted by the women's athletic association.

The members of the "M" club of the college will act as traffic officers during the performance.

The scene of the festival represents the procession, which can be seen coming through the forest from the castle of the Sheriff of Nottingham. They stop on the edge of the green where the May-day games are put on for the amusement of the queen. College Adopts New Student Constitution

By Vote of 438 to 88 Students Approve Draft of New Document—Into Effect This Summer Semester.

The students of the State Teachers College voted this morning to adopt a new student constiiution, the final vote being 438 to 88 in favor of the new constitution. The new constitution will go in effect at the beginning of the summer semester.

Some of the features of the new draft is that of representation. Under the old plan each class had a representative, three were elected from the student body at large, three from the literary societies, and three from the religious organizations, and the Residence Hall one. Under the new plan the junior, senior, and sophomore classes will have three representatives each and three delegates will be selected from at large.

Another new feature is the fact that the powers of the various officers and student bodies are definitely defined.

A lively discussion was held at the assembly this morning when Temple Allen, president of the Student Council, presented the document to the students for consideration. A great deal of opposition arose when the question of a representative from the freshman class was under consideration.

The new constitution was written by a committee composed of three members of the welfare committee. Drafts of various colleges throughout the United States were read and the new constitution modeled after the best of these. The constitution was then approved by the student council, the welfare committee, and Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College.

Claims He Robbed to Benefit Friend's Wife

Sparkle of Diamonds In Kansas City Theater Proved Too Tempting To Herbert McCullough Tells Police.

Kansas City, May 21.—The sparkle of a woman's diamond and the health of a friend's wife caused Herbert McCullought to turn bandit, he told police today after he and Joe Curtis, the friend had been returned from Topeka.

Mrs. Curtis was virtually dying in this climate, McCullough said. Tuesday night he saw Mr. and Mrs. Allen Taylor entering the Orpheum Theater. The light shone on Mrs. Taylor's diamonds and McCullough decided to rob the pair. After the $2,500 robbery, McCullough, Curtis and a woman friend of McCullough's started in a sedan for the Canadian Rockies. An accident sent the car into a ditch near Lebo, Kan. After their arrest there, McCullough insisted Curtis had nothing to do with the robbery.

It is thought that about two hours and fifteen minutes will be the regular running time between Maryville and St. Joseph, and trips will be made daily except in extremely bad weather. Mr. Hastings said that when the paved road is completed, he will put on several more cars and will make several trips a day. He has had considerable experience in the operation of motor buses, having operated a line between Quincy and Mount Sterling for several years.

NEW CHINA TO BE POWERFUL

NOW IN GRIP OF MILITARY FACTIONAL STRIFE.

MISSIONARY IS HERE

Dr. W. T. Locke To Deliver Address At Presbyterian Church At 8 o'Clock Tonight—Public Invited

Divided and decidedly militaristic, China will go through a reconstructive period similar to the United States following the Revolutionary War and will emerge one of the most powerful nations in the world, Dr. W. T. Locke, a missionary in China for more than thirty years, said this morning upon his arrival in Maryville.

Dr. Locke will deliver an address at the Presbyterian Church here at 8 o'clock tonight.

He came from China two years ago and expects to return to his work this August.

Dr. Locke said that the aftermath of the recent revolution in China has been the dividing up of the country in various military groups. There are three chief divisions, he said. First is the Mukden under the leadership of Chang Tsoling, who is said to be dominated by Japanese influences. Another group is the Chili party, who has dominated the country from the walls of Peking to the Yangtsi river. The third division of the country is south of the Yangtsi river, which is broken up in various groups, the most powerful being the Cantonese under Cheng Chen Ming and Sun Yat Sen.

All of these leaders have large armies, fairly well equipped with large arsenals.

Dr. Locke said that in the China of today there is no centralized power and that the country is divided up in a number of separate provinces with jealousy dominating affairs of government. He contrasted this condition with the period directly following the Revolutionary War when there was no central government in America. Like the experience of the United States, however, Dr. Locke predicted that China would become more and more centralized after the trouble over state's rights is settled. All provinces in China are demanding certain rights and at this time will not submit to a centralized government.

After China has established a stable government once more, an industrial revolution, already in process of formation, will sweep over this country of the orient. The manufacturing industry is already beginning to awaken, Dr. Locke said, and one of the problems which American business men have to solve is how to compete with the cheap Chinese labor.

"Unwritten Law" to Be Plea of Girl

Chicago High School Student Charges "Other Woman' Made Her Mother Cry—Shoots Her

Chicago, May 21—The "unwritten law" in an unusual form was the plea to be offered here today by Lucille Wunsch, 16-year-old high school girl, in defense of her attack on Agnes Simneck, 28, "the woman who made her mother cry" and whom she killed to end the philandering of her father.

As the crowd flocked to the hearing, there loomed the possibility that the men of Riverdale will bring in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Nation-Wide Aviation Service Is Planned

Financial Leaders From New York and Other States Contemplate Extensive Commercial Program.

Chicago, May 21.—The foundation for the first nation-wide commercial aviation system in the United States was laid here today at a secret meeting of financial leaders from New York and other states.

Details of the meeting, held behind locked doors, were lacking, but it is understood it was attended largely by stockholders of the National Air Transport, Inc., and that a telegram was sent to an agent in Wilmington, Del., to file incorporation papers for the new service.

A part of the program, it is said, contemplates a commercial air mail service between New York and Chicago to connect later with a gigantic coast-to-coast and Canada to Mexico system, which will have contacts with every important city in the country.

"CONFESSIONS" UNDER ATTACK

WINE FLOWS FREELY IN OBTAINING EVIDENCE.

STATE IS HIT HARD

Story Told By Private Investigator In Employment of Defense Forces Before Grand Jury Session.

Chicago, May 21.—A tale of alleged intrigue in which chorus girls, gin and jazz figured to keep the principals happy after they had "confessed" in a manner favorable to the prosecution was revealed this afternoon to the special grand jury impanneled by the state to investigate charges of bribery and alleged jury fixing in connection with the trial of William D. Shepherd for the death of William Nelson McClintock.

It was a story of alleged repudiation by Robert White, missing witness, of his early identification of Shepherd as a student at the National University of Science where Charles C. Faiman, his co-defendant, charges Shepherd obtained typhoid germs to inoculate young McClintock. The story was told by Arthur E. Byrne, private investigator in the employment of the defense forces who yesterday refused to testify on grounds that he would be unfair to his employer.

Chicago, May 21.—The Shepherd-McClintock tangle took a definite forward step today with the announcement that James Callan, the ward politician alleged to have attempted to influence a prospective juror, had been found, and that A. E. Byrne, Shepherd investigator, had changed his mind about testifying before the grand jury and now was waiting only a call.

The state's attorney's office refused to make any statement regarding Callan until after he had been questioned.

"There may be something after we have talked to him, but I won't say a word now," Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, declared today.

One Man Dying After Mob Attacks Jail

Six Others Are Wounded Following Storming of Texas Building in An Effort To Seize Two Negroes.

Dallas, Tex., May 21.—One man is dying and six others were wounded early today when a mob of 5,000 stormed the Dallas County jail in an effort to seize two negroes, Frank and Lorenzo Noel, brothers, being held for the alleged murder of two white men and assault upon their women companions.

The first attack of the mob was launched shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. The attacking party, armed with pistols and revolvers, shot a volley of fire against the jail building where the two blacks occupied cells. The volley was returned by police inside the jail.

About one hundred of the agitators were arrested and taken to the city jail for examination. No effort will be made to prosecute these men as there is no direct evidence against them.

NOW TO TRIAL OF PETERSON

ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAYS HE IS READY.

DAVIS IS FREE MAN

Former Governor of Kansas Is Acquitted After Jury Deliberates Three Hours, Fifteen Minutes.

Topeka, Kans., May 21.—Charles B. Griffith, attorney-general, announced this afternoon that the state was ready to proceed with the trials of Carl J. Peterson, former state banking commissioner, accused in pardon bribery cases. He said the acquittal of the governor did not change the state's course in the Peterson case.

It was considered unlikely that any of the cases would come up before fall.

Topeka, Kans., May 21.—Jonathan M. Davis former governor of Kaansas was holding a veritable leve this morning following his acquittal in three hours and ten minutes last night on charges of conspiracy and soliciting a bribe for a parole in the case of Walter Grundy, "boy banker" of Hutchison.

In the meantime, state and county authorities were conferring today over the case against Russell Davis, son of the former governor, and Carl J. Peterson, former banking commissioner, growing out of the investigation which brought the charges against the governor.

It was considered certain today, in view of the fact that evidence in all of the cases was presented in the case just closed, that the Peterson and Russel Davis charges would not be brought to trial.

Mr. Davis and his family are returning to Bourbon County late today where the former governor expects to pay strict attention to his farm the remainder of the summer.

He refused to discuss his political future.

Topeka, May 21.—Jonathan M. Davis, formerly governor of Kansas, was acquitted last night of soliciting a bribe for a parole for Walter Grundy, Hutchinson bank wrecker.

The jury returned its verdict at 10:30 o'clock, after being out only three hours and ten minutes. Agreement was reached on the fourth ballot.

The verdict did not surprise the majority of those who had heard the trial from the beginning. Predictions of acquittal were made by most of those who had followed the testimony.

Davis Never in Doubt.

Mr. Davis felt confident of acquittal from the beginning of the trial. Apparently he never doubted the verdict.

On the other hand, attorneys for the state, who have worked hard for eight days in this legal battle, believed Mr. Davis would be convicted.

C. W. Taylor, foreman of the jury, said the first ballot was taken just as soon as the jury went into the room. It was 10 to 2 for acquittal. Then the jury began studying the instructions of the court and the evidence. At the end of an hour another ballot was taken, and it stood 10 to 2 for acquittal. The jury resumed study of the evidence. At the end of half an hour another ballot was taken. It stood 11 to 1 for acquittal.

About this time Judge McClure sent up word to the jurors asking whether they wished to retire or whether there was sufficient prospect for an agreement. The jury sent back word that it would like to work for a few minutes longer.

Shortly thereafter the jury sent down word to the court that the reservations at a local hotel should be canceled, as it would be able to reach an agreement.

Mrs. Wilson to Motor in Europe

Vacation Planned for Rest and Recreation Only.

Washington, May 21.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will sail Saturday from New York to spend the summer motoring in southwestern Europe. She will be accompanied by Miss Belle Baruch of New York, daughter of Bernard M. Baruch, war-time chairman of the war industriees board and one of the intimates of the late President Wilson. Although Mrs. Wilson wanted to avoid public notice of her vacation trip, news of it leaked out when she got her passports at the state department.

Although she had made all of her plans to motor leisurely through France, and possibly Belgium and Italy as privately and with as little notice as possible she will necessarily travel over much of the same ground where she witnessed stirring scenes with her late husband when he made his notable swing of the allied capitals during the peace conference and was acclaimed with such remarkable demonstrations.

With the exception of brief visit to Geneva, seat of the League of Nations, in August, there will be nothing in Mrs. Wilson's visit to give opportunity for any reception of even semi-official character, and it is her intention to carry out her vacation plan with the sole object of rest and recreation. She possibly may visit England before returning home in the fall.

Lightning Frightens Telephone Girls.

(Hopkins Journal)

During the rain and electrical storm last Friday, lightning played frightful capers at the office of the Hanamo Telephone Company, and while no serious damage was done, the girls on duty were naturally quite badly frightened as one flash struck the testing board, filling the room with smoke and flames reaching to the ceiling. Mrs. Bessie Bonham and Mrs. Bess Sobbing were on duty and are not at all anxious to go through another similar experience.

ANAEMIA

A remarkable discovery has enabled thousands of worn-out, tired, nervous, anaemic people to increase their strength and energy, often in two weeks' time, and to quickly change their leaden pallor and listless look to the pink skin, rosy lips and sparkling eyes of glowing health. Formerly they were given the old-fashioned tinctures and pills made from mineral iron, which many doctors now say are scarcely assimilated at all, and so give little benefit. But since the discovery of a new combination of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which, being like the organic iron in our own blood, is promptly taken up by the blood, thousands have found that they can banish every trace of tiredness and dizziness, those peculiar pains and that nervousness incident to old age, in a few short weeks. Furthermore, Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach. It quickly helps build up rich, red blood that carries new strength, vitality and youth to your whole body.

No matter how weak and ill you feel, or how many other medicines you have tried in vain, make this convincing test: Take Nuxated Iron for just two weeks, and if you do not notice a wonderful improvement in strength and energy and look years younger, the druggist will promptly refund your money. Nuxated Iron is sold under this absolute guarantee by all good druggists.

Communication

Editor Democrat-Forum and Tribune:

In answer to Cooper Gooden's statement in yesterday's paper:

The two ladies from Rochester, that arrived on the 4:55 a. m., Wabash train Sunday morning were no doubt put to some inconvenience, also the Good Samaritan and his wife. The two ladies would have had adequate transportation if they had arrived when their folks in Maryville were expecting them.

I was requested to meet the 4:55 a. m., Wabash train Saturday morning and get two ladies that would arrive on that train and take them to a certain place in Maryville. When the train arrived several passengers got off. I placed one passenger in the front seat of the car, and held the back seat for the two ladies turning down some others that wished to ride. But the ladies that I was requested to get did not appear. So I had one passenger out of a possible three or four. I am not blaming anybody. It was just circumstance, and goes with our trying to give service.

You might say that a taxi business is to serve the public. It is. But is not any business man serving the public? But do you expect him to run his business at a loss? It would be the nicest thing in the world if we could tell before we go to meet a train if we were going to get any passengers off it. If we could we would save a lot of useless driving. More than one time the taxis have come back from the train empty. There is no profit in that. After a hard day's drive and then maybe a drive late that night it takes an ambitious man to get up at four o'clock every morning and meet the early Wabash train not knowing whether or not he will get anybody.

The taxis are in business for profit. They serve the public the best they can. There is a happy medium there someplace between the service to the public and profit. You would not ask them to give all service and have no profit or of course vice versa. There is a medium there, that with so much service we have so much profit. If we did not give quite that much service our profits would decrease. And if we gave more service our profits would also decrease. For it costs to give service. It costs money to drive from a train with no passengers. But by going we are giving service to those who might want service. A taxi driver will stay up late at night, he will drive in bad weather, he will inconvenience himself and convenience his customer if he knows it will be appreciated. But there is where they gamble, they have to run the risk. And when they do play it safe, and they would have won if they had run the risk, it gives them a bad reputation with the public.

President Coolidge's Salary and W. House Expense Over $300,000

While the President's salary is only $75,000 and his traveling and entertainment allowance $25,000, the government spends over $300,000 a year maintaining the country's First Family, an article in this week's Liberty explains. The extra expense comes in maintaining the White House, grounds, and domestic and office staffs.

"President Coolidge receives annually seventy-five thousand dollars, with an allowance of twenty-five thousand dollars a year for traveling expenses and official entertainment," the account states. "He is the only government official not required to sign a pay roll. His salary check of six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars a month is brought to the White House by a special messenger from the Treasury Department.

"The allowance of twenty-five thousand dollars remains in the Treasury subject to order. His signature is authority for the White House disbursing officer to pay, up to the total amount specified, expenses incident to trips, in checks on the Treasury against the Presidential allowance. Similarly, the expenses of strictly official entertainments at the White House are estimated and the statement signed by the President, who then is reimbursed by a Treasury check for the amount, which is deducted from the allowance for the year.

"The President does not, of course, defray from his own salary the upkeep of the Executive Mansion and the grounds surrounding it. Nor does he pay the domestic staff, the expenses of the executive office, nor the White House police force of thirty-three men, without whose eternal vigilance nothing portable within the grounds could be saved from souvenir fiends. For these expenses Congress appropriates about three hundred thousand dollars a year.

"There is also a Presidential allowance of three thousand dollars for printing and binding, this being the only allowance at the disposal of the President in addition to the twenty-five thousand dollars for traveling and official entertainment.

"The entertainment allowance does not include the constant hospitality extended by the President and his wife, who rarely sit down, even at breakfast, without having guests at the table with them. For this the President pays, even as you and I, out of his personal salary. It is also an expense that would not devolve upon any couple in private life, and a social burden that no man on a salary of seventy-five thousand dollars would, for a moment, attempt to carry."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, May 21.—Futures closed generally lower on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The undertone was erratic. Considerable realizing in wheat was attributed to favorable crop and weather developments.

The market opened strong but gave way later as demand waned and advises from growing areas showed favorable over night developments. Severe temperature changes in the northeast were followed by beneficial rains.

Beter weather and crops acted as a weight on corn futures. Cash firmed up after minor fluctuations due to increased export demand. Considerable of the trading was in local markets.

Oats sold off fractionally under the influence of other grains.

Late buying said to be for foreign accounts boosted provisions.

Golf Spotlight Is Now Turned to the National Tourney

New York, May 21.—The National Open Golf Championships, the thirty first in the annals of the sport, is about to burst with all its glory, heartaches, thrills and other such accompaniments that feature these yearly contests between the paid profession and the best of the amateur talent.

The Worcester Country Club has been selected for the boys to unlimber their hickory and steel equipment, and speculation will soon turn to the chances of the real seasoned campaigners again occupying the spotlight, or Walker withstanding the charge of the Nation's best.

And what the onlookers will watch with keen interest is the various equipments the stars are now using. There isn't anything like standardization among them any more. And nothing like a warped shaft do their kits contain. Rust is seldom on their bread earners either. There's pride taken in their shot producers.

And this coming to pass of the realization that good clubs help toward good golf shots is taking root everywhere. The advent of the steel shaft into the game has helped everyone in this respect. And speaking of steel, the curious at Worcester will have a close up of how this universally satisfying shaft is finding favor among the golf doctors.

Coming back to the championship itself again, possibly one of the interesting developments will concern Gene Sarazen. What has revamping done to his game? Two rounds of play will tell that tale. Or will another of his race take his place, reference being made to Joe Turnesa, and the Cuici boys, Henry in particular, who plays with Hagen in the qualifying rounds.

And has Hagen slipped, golfers are now asking. The answer seems to be "yes," as far as the Winter season is considered. But the slips were on the greens. Though championships are won on that particular section of golf courses these days, it is a fairly safe prediction that Hagen's blemish will be erased when the bell rings, and Sir Walter will be up with the greats when the pay-off station is reached. And true, there will be no doubt of Leo Diegel, one of the game's sensations in the Southlands and Tommy Armour the black haired Scot, an amateur a short while ago. Walker, the defending champion is, we might say, an unknown quantity. At Pinehurst he played well enough, but not good enough to repeat. It was rather interesting to watch the Englewood professional upon his arrival practicing with the steel shafted clubs due to his baggage being slow in arriving.

There is another upon whom the bull dog watch will be used at Worcester. Macdonald Smith is his name. He seems to be par's master most anywhere at present, and has earned the healthy respect of all through his recent triumphs. You may speak of the clan from A to Z in summarizing his chances, bring in the amateurs as well, but Smith of comeback fame, will likely be the most serious contender in our rapidly approaching National Open Championship.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Bad Backs Bring Suffering to Many Maryville Folks.

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by thousands.

E. A. Berry, Willow St., Stanberry, Mo., says: "My back was lame and sore and sharp, cutting pains caught me in the small of it leaving me in a bad way. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were highly colored and burned in passage. A few boxes of Doan's Pills rid me of the attack and since then whenever my kidneys aren't acting properly, due to a cold, I take Doan's Pills.

Omaha, Neb.—"After I left the hospital where I had been operated upon I was very nervous and weak. A lady told me that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription had carried her through a similar experience, so I started taking it and was soon convinced that it is a wonderful feminine tonic. It quieted my nerves and a few bottles built me up and helped me in every way."—Mrs. Dora Horton, 1724 Capitol Ave.

Ask for More Paving on Fillmore Street

Petition Filed Today for Re-Inforced Concrete Between Third and Fourth Streets on Fillmore.

A petition, signed by four resident property owners, practically assures seven inch re-inforced concrete paving on Fillmore street between Third and Fourth streets. The petition, requesting the city council to order the construction of paving on this portion of Fillmore street, was filed with the city clerk, Mrs. Merle Cooper Smith today. It was signed by:

Capt. Charles Hyslop;

Effie Mann estate, by E. E. Williams,, trustee;

Effie Man estate, by Capt. Charles Hyslop, trustee; and Luther Belcher.

This petition will be considered by the city council tonight at its special meeting if the commissioners finish considering the matter of paving on Fillmore street, between Fourth and Eighth streets, against which a remonstrance has been filed.

The filing of this petition for paving on Fillmore street between Third and Fourth streets is a favorable indication that the council may take action to have the other block on Fillmore, between Second and Third streets, paved.

H. . Gish, representing the Portland Cement Association, with headquarters at Kansas City, was in Maryville today checking over the petitions that have been circulated among resident property owners on Walnut street between Lincoln and Ninth streets.

In case that it is deemed there are sufficient signers on these petitions to assure paving it will be filed with the city clerk late this afternoon. The petitions call for seven inch re-inforced concrete paving. They were circulated with the intention to supplant the proposed two and a half inch brick paving which was killed last month by a remonstrance signed by a sufficient number of resident property owners.

In case the petitions are filed with the city clerk this afternoon the proposition will be taken under advisement by the city council tonight.

Monarchs May Be Here to Play M. M. B. C. on June 7

Negotiating With Negro Team in Second Place In Negro League—Tommy Tobin to Catch This Sunday.

We don't wish to venture whether Peaceful Reynolds will have a busy time June 7 at the M.M. B. C. ball park as scorekeeper, but there is no question but what the baseball fans of the district will be greatly entertained on the afternoon of Sunday, June 7.

The Kansas City Monarchs, tied for second place with the St. Louis team in the National Colored League, will cross bats with the Maryville Merchants Baseball Club. This is presumed from information made known today by Bob Liley, manager of the local club, who said that he had wired the Kansas City Monarchs he would accept their terms to play here on the foregoing day mentioned.

The Monarchs yesterday made it their third straight victory over the Birmingham, Ala., team and today were returning to Kansas City to open a series with the league leaders from Detroit at Kansas City.

On this coming Sunday the M. M. B. C. will play the Clarinda All-Nations. Buhler will have Tommy Tobin to receive his deliveries next Sunday and Mayes will be shifted to right field. The rest of the line-up will remain the same, with perhaps a change at left-field, but this position is yet pending.

The game will be called at 2:30 sharp Sunday afternoon at the ball park, the old fairgrounds east of the city.

VOLUME 15. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1925 NO. 300

128TH FIELD ARTILLERY WAS ORGANIZED AT ST. LOUIS 1812

When war was declared between the United States and Great Britain in 1812, British traders in the country west of the Applachian Range and especially along the east bank of the Mississippi River, bordering the territory of Missouri, incited Indians to make raids against the white settlers in northeast Missouri. Tribes of Sacs, Foxes and Winnebagos, gathered in the vicinity of Peoria (Illinois) were supplied with fire arms by the British and made frequent depredations into what is now Lewis and Clark counties, the northeast counties of Missouri. The marauding bands of Indians crossed the Mississippi River in the vicinity of Quincy.

During the late summer of 1812 settlers in Pike, Lincoln and St. Charles counties were exposed to predatory raids of hostile tribes, frequently marked with rapine and slaughter. Without warning the Indians would sweep down upon the small white settlements kill and scalp settlers and drive off their horses and cattle. The whole country was filled with terror by these raids.

Benjamin Howard, territorial governor of Missouri, determined to stop the depredations of the Indians, whose frequent incursions had become a constant menace to Missourians. A number of prominent citizens of St. Louis agreed to support Governor Howard in whatever action he deemed advisable and signed a petition to the Governor requesting authority to form an artillery organization, to be used in case of necessity, to repel a threatened Indian attack on St. Louis. The petition was granted by the Governor and a battery of artillery was organized in St. Louis, in the fall of 1812, with Robert Lucas, an ex-army officer as the first captain. Before receiving the arms for his organization, Robert Lucas was called back into federal service, and his brother, Charles Lucas, who later was killed in a duel fought with United States Senator Thomas Hart Benton, became the captain. This artillery organization was sent to Portage des Soufx north of St. Louis, where it was encamped for several months to guard this crossing of the Mississippi River.

During the summer of 1813 Benjamin Howard resigned his office as Governor and was commissioned a Brigadier General and authorized to command troops on both sides of the Mississippi River and drive out the Indians in Illinois bordering the Missouri territory.

In September 1813, General Howard, with a force of 1,400 men started north from St. Louis against the Indians. The St. Louis Battery was ordered to move north along the west bank of the Mississippi and repel invasions in St. Charles and Lincoln counties. The Battery continued in the service until the close of the war.

In 1846 when Governor Edwards called for troops to join the "Army of the West," following the declaration of war between the Mexican Government and the United States, the St. Louis Battery, under the command of Major M. L. Clark with Captains R. A. Weightman and A. W. Fisher, joined Col. Alexander Doniphan's expedition for the west.

Doniphan's expedition was mobilized at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, early in June 1846 and left there the latter part of June for the west following the Santa Fe trail. The expedition marched to Southern California, retracing part of its way, and then proceeded south to Mexico, where it took active part in the fighting. This was the longest march ever made by artillery, in history and was memorialized by Whittier in poetry. During this trip they had several engagements with the Indians.

During the summer of 1847 the Battery returned to St. Louis, coming up the river by boat from New Orleans, and was given a rousing reception when they landed. They had received little, if any, pay, and were, more or less in rags and tatters.

When the Civil War broke out, some of the old artillerymen divided in their allegiance; part of them going to the Confederate Service and others remaining in the Federal Service. Guibor's famous battery was the portion that left St. Louis for the confederate service.

During the railroad riots of 1877, Captain Charles W. Squires, who had assisted in organizing the Washington Artillery of Louisiana, for the confederate service, was called upon by Governor Phelps to organize a battery in St. Louis. Captain Squires asked all those who desired to enlist to assemble at the Four Courts; many former members responded. After assembling they went into the jail yard, and, as it was raining, they gathered under the platform of the gallows and organized what has since been known as Battery "A."

Captain Squires was given command of the troops during the strike. Later on he became commanding general of the National Guard of Missouri.

Upon the declaration of War with Spain, Battery "A" volunteered and was known as Battery "A" Missouri Volunteers. It was trained at Chickamauga, Ga. It later became a part of a battalion of artillery, under Major George I. Rodney, U. S. A., and was sent to Newport News, where it became part of an expeditionary force to Porto Rico, under the command of Major General Brooks. Battery "A" was the only organization from the State of Missouri to serve in enemy territory during actual hostilities with Spain.

At the outbreak of war with Germany Battery "A" was expanded into the 128th Field Artillery regiment. All the organizations of this regiment were organized in St. Louis, with exception of one battery which was organized in Kansas City. The St. Louis contingent was officered almost entirely from old, or then existing members, of Battery "A."

Many prominent families in St. Louis have been represented in the various organizations, the predecessors of the present 128th Field Artillery from the beginning; in fact, the fourth and fifth generations were represented in the organization during the World War.

Weather Last Week Favorable for Crops

Ample Moisture Reported Throughout State—Wheat Benefitted by Cool Weather.

The week ending Tuesday morning, May 19, averaged cooler than the seasonal normal by about 6 degrees, making the third consecutive week of deficient warmth and sunshine in Missouri. The first four days of the current week, however, were more seasonal and more favorable for crops than the preceding weeks. The afternoons of the 14th and 15th were quite warm and sunny; and the nights were nearly normal. The adverse feature was the reaction to abnormally cold weather on and after the 16th, though, fortunately, without serious effects on crops, save to further retard growth of the more tender varieties.

In the main there was ample moisture. A moderately heavy to heavy rain fell on the 15-16th; it was general except in the Southeast. Locally, especially in some of the central counties, the falls were excessive and along with some hail and high wind, did some little crop damage. A good rain in the Southeast would be of benefit.

The wheat crop seemed to be benefitted by the cool weather, and the spring has not been too wet. The general condition and progress has continued fair to very good. It is heading out as far north as the Missouri river, but as a rule, straw is short. There are no complaints of weather or insect damage. Oats need warmth and sunshine.

Corn is all planted in southern and central sections; it has been retarded somewhat by wet, cool weather in northern sections, but is from 60 to 80 per cent done; not much replanting is necessary, unless the weather continues cool and wet. That part of the crop that is up shows the effects of the lack of warmth and sunshine.

Pastures and forage are doing well, except clover and alfalfa begin to show the need of warmth and sunshine; the first cutting of alfalfa has begun in the southeast. Tree fruits have not been seriously hurt; the southern strawberry crop is large and shipments continue.

The Southeast cotton crop has been planted and much is up. More sunshine, with occasional warm showers are needed.

GAIN IN HIGHER SCHOOLING.

From public and private schools 300,000 American boys and girls are graduating this commencement season, while the colleges and other higher institutions are losing 50,000 in the country. Something of the progress which a generation has witnessed is shown in a comparison with 1890 when there were about 40,000 high school graduates and less than 9,000 college degrees. This difference in numbers measures the advancement of higher education in one generation. It is proof of the increasing desire for scholastic training and the ability of those having such ambition to meet the demands. It is a fact well known to those who have been called on to finance a college education that the cost now is several times what it was in the period around 1890, yet there are more than five times as many young men and young women receiving degrees. Tuition is much higher, cost of living is far greater and the incidentals are vastly more numerous than when the parents went to school. Possibly the proportion of those eager for college training is not greater but the ability to secure it certainly is more widely diffused.

The greater number of high school graduates, especially those from the public schools, does not imply so much in the way of expense, though the numbers indicate that there is less disposition to take children out of school and put them to work ere the course is completed. This of itself is evidence of bettered financial conditions. A greater proportion of the parents are able to do without the earnings of their children than formerly. Thus the situation is indicative not only of a better trained youth but also of a more substantial parenthood than existed a generation ago. The success of democracy depends on intelligence and it is a guarantee of stability that higher schooling is increasing in such degree.

GREAT OAKS FROM LITTLE ACORNS.

The J. C. Penney Company is erecting an eighteen story office and warehouse building in New York to accommodate its numerous stores throughout the country. This is a far cry from the original started twenty-three years ago. In 1902 Mr. Penney started a store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, with $500. His $500 in money was perhaps the least of his capital for he had an idea and this idea has developed into a tremendous success. Every man who goes into business can not be a Wanamaker, a Marshall Field, nor a J. C. Penney but every merchant can profit by a study of the lives of these men and what brought success to them.

Many of the outstanding successes in business make one fact clear and that is that ideas coupled with industry have more to do with success than the original capital invested. Many men fail because of the lack of one or the other and sometimes both. Some fail because they are not willing to let their business interfere with their pleasure. It is needless to say that every successful business man gives his business the right of way over pleasure and most of them find genuine pleasure in their business.

Civilized people are those who levy great taxes upon themselves to pay for having killed one another.

The umpires and the women have an even break. Neither ever loses an argument.

Des Moines is expecting a good trade in motor trucks. The chief of police of that city is planning a weekly parade of all the bootleggers through the streets in motor trucks.

Missouri is not especially in need of any more laws but she will have 153 more in effect July 9 as the result of the labors of the last legislature. Governor Baker has vetoed 24 bills.

MUST BEGIN EARLY IN PRACTICE OF IDEALS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP

The following essay on "Good Citizenship" was written by Miss Chloe Agnes Moore, a student in the Hardesty rural school.

In order to become a good citizen we must begin at an early age and work toward that end. It means so much to us because there are in our lives times when each of us are called upon to sacrifice leisure, pleasure and money in order to serve our country best.

A patriotic citizen must give to the community the best service possible. The citizen should realize that in the work by which he makes a living he has a great responsibility toward the other members of the community. Good citizenship shows itself in the work of a man more than in any other way.

Good citizens are loyal to their country.

Each citizen must keep his eyes open. He should always be willing to call attention to any remissness in the enforcement of laws.

The two most essentials of good citizenship are the feeling of personal responsibility and obedience.

One of the first steps in transforming men and women into good citizens is to give them pleasant surroundings.

Every citizen owes it to his community to get an education and do his duty.

Each citizen owes it to himself and to his community to use every means at his command to secure an economical administration of the affairs of his community so that the investments of citizens in the community will bring the largest possible returns.

Every citizen should keep himself posted in regard to the rules of the Sanitary Code. He should also pay close attention to the notices the Board of Health sends out from time to time. They are meant for the good of the city, and it is the citizen's duty to respect and obey them. Every citizen, young or old, should make it his duty to wash his own body from head to foot every day. Fresh air and sunlight are good germ killers, and the more freely the citizen uses these good health bringers to their homes, the less chance there be for the disease to enter. They should help the Department of Health, and read the Sanitary Code with care because it will show him many things. The city watches closely in order to protect the health of its citizens, and to guard them from accidents as well as from preventable diseases. A solemn duty which every citizen owes to the city where he lives, is to report at once to the Department of Health, the presence of a case of contagious disease in his home, or in that of a neighbor who is trying to get rid of it.

All citizens should take enough pride of their own city to do everything to improve it. They should throw their papers, fruit skins and other light refuse in the rubbish boxes on the street corners.

Foreigners often make the best American citizens. One reason is because that many foreign-born children are among the first to do all the duties that belong to a good citizen.

Citizens are foolish as well as wrong who obey the laws only while the policeman is watching and disobey it the minute his back is turned. If all of us would always obey the laws, there would be very little disorder or crime. If we would do these things it would help the work of the police department and it would make the city much better and happier.

A citizen must be a member of a state or nation who enjoys political rights and privileges, and gives in return his allegiance to the government.

The children of today are the citizens of the future and upon them lies a duty and obligation of making their country a better land in which they live.

The characteristics of a good citizen consists of the law of health, duty, kindness, truth, self-reliant, self-reliance, sportsmanship, workmanship, team work, self-control, reliability and loyalty.

They Laughed At Edison

WHEN EDISON opened his Pearl Street lighting plant in New York in 1882 wiseacres jeered at electric service as a mere impractical curiosity.

Since that time the scoffers have been silenced, for electric service has proven its value. Today 39,000,000 Americans use electricity in their homes and businesses.

The quality of its electric service is an important test of any community. Towns served by our system meet this test, for we are in business to give the kind of service which is a community asset.

Rainbow Colors in Men's Clothing

Chicago, May 21—(United Press)—Rainbow colors will preponinate in men's clothing, from collars to sox, next fall, the 32nd annual convention of the International Association of Garment Manufacturers, decided here.

"You cannot wear anything too brilliant," Austin G. Rogers, spokesman for the garment makers told the United Press.

He pointed out gaudy red, yellow and black striped blazer jackets, red and blue leather jerkin golf vests, purple and green dressing robes, which were on display to show the way the trend would be.

"White collars jobs will be in the discard, because, save for formal wear, there will be no white collars," he continued. "The shirts will be bright colored with soft collars, which can be detached. Occasionally a man may wear a starched white collar but the colored starched collar is going out."

The cut of the clothes will be about the same. Rogers indicated, save that the balloon type trousers will not be quite so wide, and may taper a bit from the knees down. Powder blue is going out, he indicated, and is being replaced by tarns, grays, mixtures and a shade known as "London Lavendar."

State's Parks To Be Larger

System Will Rank With Best of Other States Soon.

Jefferson City, May 21.—Plans for the enlargement and development of the Missouri state park system during the next two years were announced here today by Keith McCanse, state game and fish commissioner, who has just returned from an extended tour of the various state park tracts in south Missouri. The game commissioner predicted that when completed the park system would be second to none among the states of the nation.

Additional land adjoining the various parks is to be purchased in order to "square up" the parks, it was said. Game sanctuaries will be established where wild life will be free from molestation. Keepers will be named, the land will be beautified and many other improvements will be made.

Attractive, natural camping sites will be established in each of the parks for tourists, the game and fish commissioner added, and it is expected that thousands of tourists will visit the parks, especially as the state highway system nears completion. The parks abound in thousands of acres of natural woodlands, streams and lakes and will be ideal places for wild animals, birds and game fish, which, under the plans, will be propagated in the tracts.

Commissioner McCanse said he would not formulate a definite state park system policy until after he has completed an intensive study of other state parks in various states and conferred with recognized park authorities this summer. He is planning a tour of state parks in Pennsylvania, Virginia and other states. He intends, also, to attend a national conference of state fish and game commissioners to be held in Skyland, Va., this summer.

Ideas will be gathered during the tour, Commissioner McCanse said, and brought back to Missouri to be used in developing the park system.

THE PULLMAN SURCHARGE

Ira Nelson Morris, President, Uncle Sam's Voters, Washington, D. C.

In the closing days of the Sixty-Eighth Congress a determined effort was made to end the Pullman surcharge, a fifty per cent additional tax imposed above the Pullman company's fee for berths or seats, and turned over not to the Pullman company but to the railroad companies. This charge was put in effect during the war and the view was taken by a number of members of Congress that it should now be abolished.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, just before Congress took up the matter, had voted to keep the surcharge in effect. Thereupon the issue was raised in the Senate and the vote of that body was to eliminate it. The proposal then went to the House of Representatives, which decided against the Senate and with the Interstate Commission.

The manner in which the surcharge works is as follows: The minimum rate for an upper berth in a Pullman is $3 and for a lower berth is $3.75. Of these amounts the Pullman company has sought widespread publicity as to these facts and is in favor of reducing the costs of Pullman accommodations by removing the surcharge. The railroad companies, however, which received $1 of every $3 charge and $1.25 of every $3.75 charge, naturally want to retain those amounts which constitute a considerable item of revenue.

The reason for the institution of the charge in war time was to discourage Pullman travel. Pullman cars are much heavier than coaches and at a time when transportation facilities had to be utilized to the utmost it was desirable to transport as many people as possible for a given expenditure for hauling and upkeep. The necessity for discouraging Pullman travel, the company believes, has now ended, but the railroad companies contended that the readjustment at this time would be disastrous so far as they were concerned.

The question is not permanently settled, and will probably be raised again at the earliest opportunity.

Should the Pullman surcharge be removed?

YES

1. The necessity for its imposition has passed. The nation is now at peace and there is no need for herding people into day coaches. They should be permitted to travel as cheaply as the Pullman company is willing to carry them, for the surcharge represents an unwarranted profit to the railroad companies. They are already paid for hauling the Pullman cars, and collect train tickets for every passenger in Pullman cars or coaches.

2. Travel should be encouraged, not hampered. The imposition of an unnecessary surcharge taxes the people for the benefit of the railroad companies, deprives them of comforts in traveling by making the cost of the comforts 50 per cent higher than they should be, and probably prevents many people making journeys about the country that would not only enable them to become better acquainted with it but promote health and educational equipment as well.

3. It is a matter that affects a great many people. The American people travel more than they did two decades ago; Representative Sol Bloom says there are a million traveling salesmen alone who use the railroads constantly and points out that increasing their expenses increases costs of the goods they sell. The traveling salesman, Mr. Bloom says, has suffered more than other travelers from the war's effects, since his mileage book transportation has also been taken away from him. Pullman rates themselves were also increased 20 per cent, in addition to the surcharge, or rather prior to the surcharge.

4. Congress need not leave the matter in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission, says Mr. Bloom, who points out that the persons most interested in preservation of the rights and dignity of the commission in this case, where the decision is for the railroads, are continually appealing rulings of the commission to the courts where those rulings are against the railroads. The commission, he said, voted only 6 to 5 in favor of the present surcharge. The Pullman car is no longer a "luxury" but a business necessity.

5. The Pullman surcharge has no relation to scientific rate-making. If the railroads suffer through removal of the charge there are other ways, fairer to the people, whereby they may be recompensed.

NO.

1. Congress should not fix rates, says Representative Tydings of Maryland; it would open the door to prejudice and might result in serious danger to the railroads and to the business interest of the country. In any event, he contended, Congress should not act upon such a matter hastily. The probable results should be carefully considered.

2. Only three per cent of the American people use Pullman cars, according to Representative Rayburn of Texas, and to relieve them of the tax would mean that the amount would have to be made up by the rest of the people who ride or who pay freight. If rates are to be reduced it would be better to reduce the regular passenger fares or freight rates, he contended. Mr. Rayburn said he believed that possible, and favored it but that it should be done "in an orderly manner" by an expert body, the Interstate Commerce Commission, not Congress.

3. It is more expensive to carry a Pullman passenger than a passenger in a day coach, because of the greater weight of the cars, and since there is this justification for the charge, and since the charge rests on persons best able to bear it, it is undesirable to change matters at this time—thus Representative Watkins of Oregon.

4. Mr. Watkins further contended that the Interstate Commerce Commission was not sure what ought to be done, and that if experts disagree Congress can hardly be expected to act wisely. He said that it would be a hazardous project to "sweep aside with one swoop approximately $40,000,000 revenue to the carriers of this country."

5. The railroads "earn less per car-mile on the average on their Pullman business than they earn from their coach business, even when the surcharges and the various financial benefits accruing upon the Pullman contracts are taken into consideration," according to the majority report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which drew the conclusion that there were less justification for removing the surcharge than for lowering regular passenger fares. "Why begin at the luxury end and ignore the necessities?" asked Representative Moore of Virginia.

6. Some Pullman lines would be cut out as unprofitable to the railroads, without the surcharge.

Honey Dew Pig Meal

28½ % Protein
Equal to Mother's Milk
New Method of Raising Hogs and Pigs Successfully

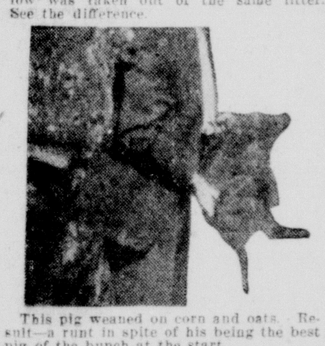
REMEMBER THIS—THE MOST CRITICAL TIME IN A PIG'S LIFE IS WEANING TIME. If you take little pigs from mother's milk and put them on coarse feed all of a sudden without a substitute for mother's milk, you invite trouble.

You must have a Pig Meal high in available, digestible protein and as near mother's milk as possible. Honey Dew Pig Meal is the highest quality of all. HONEY DEW DOES IT.

Corn and oats exclusively are not a proper feed for little pigs at weaning time, as the little pigs at this time are not old enough to handle coarse, unbalanced feeds like corn and oats.

How the pig starts at weaning time means either success or failure. Pigs wean themselves on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL without setbacks or bowel trouble.

These five litter brothers weaned themselves on Honey Dew Pig Meal. Pig below was taken out of the same litter. See the difference.



This pig weaned on corn and oats. Result—a runt in spite of his being the best pig of the bunch at the start.

Shoat Scale Test Producing Pork at 4c Per Pound.

Scale test on 90 pigs owned by Elmore Nauman, Mound City, Mo., weighed an average of 41 lbs. per head at start: The 90 head of pigs fed a period of 41 days on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and nothing else except water. At the end of 41 days' feed, the pigs weighed an average of 90 lbs., making a net gain of 39 lbs. of pork per head in 41 days. Each pig only consumed 41 lbs. of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and water, producing pork for less than 4 cents a pound.

How to Handle Brood Sows With Pigs.

Feed the sow HONEY DEW PIG MEAL as a slop while she is nursing her pigs. By so doing you will increase the milk flow and the sow will not fall off in fat. In short, feed the pigs by feeding the sow while the pigs are nursing. We recommend for a 250 to 300 lb. sow, one pound of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and 3 ears of corn—and nothing else except water. Little pigs will wean themselves while running with the sows. After pigs reach 4 weeks of age, place HONEY DEW PIG MEAL in dry form in self-feeders with plenty of fresh water near the feeder. Fix a place where they can run in and out as they please to the feeder containing the HONEY DEW PIG MEAL. They will wean themselves in 8 weeks. No set-backs or bowel trouble.
